VICAR'S BLOG : MAY 2014

I became a Christian at the age of 17. Sometimes people are quite surprised when I say that, because they assume that I was brought up as a 'church' person. In fact, up to the age of 17, I had rarely been in church other than for the odd wedding. However, someone was brave enough to share their Christian faith with me and after going to church a couple of times and reading some things and talking to other Christians I became convinced, or convicted that God is real and that following Jesus was the way to live my life. Of course there are ups and downs in faith but since that time I have been very aware that my faith is the core of who I am. Sometimes faith throws difficult questions at us, and there are things that I still struggle with and find hard to make sense of – but living as a person of faith is about living with the questions of life, as well as the answers. If we had all the answers then faith wouldn't be required!

As I write this, we are about to move into Holy Week, and again dwell on the death of Jesus on the cross and on into the celebration of the resurrection on Easter Sunday. I guess that for some people this is an irrelevance or even a downright lie, for others it's a puzzle and for others it is life-changing. It does pose questions though doesn't it? This event seems to have cut history in two, billions of people have come to believe it, people testify to life changing experiences when they have come to accept Jesus as their Lord – I often wonder what it is that causes us to react so differently, what causes us to reject faith and what causes us to accept it. I suppose we have that demonstrated to us by the disciples – there was a myriad of different reactions to Jesus in the run up to the cross – Peter denied, Judas betrayed, Thomas questioned, John stood at the foot of the cross alongside Mary – I have no doubt as well that as Jesus was being led to the cross, others were just going about their daily business thinking that this was just another Roman crucifixion. The thing is that 'just another crucifixion' isn't what it was – 2000 years later, no other crucifixion has had such a profound impact in history and posed so many questions.

Every Blessing,
Penny

Top student, with distinction, 1991 at Caythorpe College

Chris Darcel, WLDC Councillor for Fiskerton and Langworth, 3 Holmfield, Fiskerton LN3 4GD, tel 01522 750411, or email chris.darcel1@gmail.com

Going paper free! The District Council seems to be making good progress in making all of its on line services computer or smart phone friendly. As a near 70 year old I am not so enthusiastic but having been to America recently, where the whole population seems to live, travel and almost eat on their smart phones we will not be far behind. So we had better get used to the idea.

I am assured WLDC will keep old fashioned backup support for those who are not so familiar with IT or who just cannot use the computer and they are building up a team of helpers to help you and me through the change.

If you feel you would like me to organise some hand holding sessions in the village hall, please let me know and also I would like your ideas on how we could make the service easy and available to all members of our community.

Having now purchased a large smart phone – I can see the figures without needing my specs, telephone numbers and my calendar are easy and I can write letters in Word and use spreadsheets with ease. BUT there are some things on which I would much rather speak to a person rather than just typing in a “text”. Providing WLDC does keep a backup support team for such situations I can see there are lots of ways in which we will be better off. Apparently our “helpers” report there are lots of 80 year olds who are catching the bug and as the aps get better more will get fun from joining in. Meals on wheels might be one such service and assisted shopping might take on a new dimension. The mobile library service might be better able to meet public needs if readers could easily put in a request for the books they require... the possibilities are endless.

The Holmfield Estate. At the last Parish Council meeting Cllr Howard suggested the residents consider forming a Residents’ Association. Would anyone be interested in launching such a project? There is plenty of information on the Web on the steps to take and there could be all sorts of issues arising on the estate where an association could carry more weight than a few individuals raising their concerns. One of my major worries is the disputed ownership of the two open spaces on Holmfield and the potential problems this could bring to neighbours of the two parcels of land. It does need sorting out: a Residents’ Association might be able to precipitate some action. Another resident is concerned about children racing about at high speed on bikes and scooters. They are not only a danger to themselves but should they hit a car who would pay for the damage and what would the driver feel like to be victim of such an accident. The fence should between Nos 23 and 27 should be sorted out by the Parish Council this autumn but perhaps with a Residents’ Association a year might have been taken out of the time line. If anyone is interested I will be pleased to help launch the project but the organisation should be independent and under its own management.

The Neighbourhood Plan. The date has changed. The new date is Thursday 19th June. I am sorry for the delay in that I like things to go as planned but on the other hand a short holiday on the south coast has emphasised to me just how important a neighbourhood plan is for small villages like ours. From West Sussex, through Hampshire and in East Dorset small communities are fighting large tranches of housing being imposed on them without any thought of how the supporting infrastructure will be provided. It is not just on the south coast. Louth is likely to get an extra 900 homes, Scotter 450 and goodness knows how many are in the pipeline for Fiskerton Langworth and Cherry Willingham and round Lincoln. New homes require new jobs, new schools, hospital beds and more police officers, more town hall staff, more play parks, roads and libraries. Where will the jobs come from and who will pay for the infrastructure? The existing council tax payers of course. The country does need more houses, for all sorts of reasons, but I would rather see well thought out new garden cities with the developer paying for the required infrastructure or much smaller developments that don’t overload the existing services. How can Louth cater for an extra 900 homes unless the schools and other facilities are built in with the project?

The youth shelter, litter and vandalism- I am at a loss as to what to say. Even more glass has now been broken from the inside!

While I can understand the frustration of our youngsters in not having the original glass repaired in the four months since the village hall and shelter were vandalised at Christmas, it is no excuse for the emptying of rubbish bins behind the shelter or breaking of further panes of glass. I would be surprised if the original teenagers are responsible but it does lead into another problem. I know all sorts of youngsters from all sorts of backgrounds get up to and do silly things from time to time but this latest twist is a worry. I am worried about what comes next. A few years ago there was a spate of vandalism in the village. Glass in the phone box was repeatedly broken, houses and cars were covered in graffiti and worse. Hopefully we can avoid this happening again and if anyone knows who the miscreants are perhaps they might have a quiet word with our Police Support Officer or the parents. It might help stop things getting worse.

PATIENT PARTICIPATION CORNER

From Our Chair Pam (Nettleham & CW PPG)

I was nervous on Tuesday the 2nd April when I caught a train to King's Cross in London. I had been invited by the Royal College of General Practitioners (RCGP) to attend a Parliamentary Reception in the Houses of Parliament. The reason for this meeting was to launch an awareness raising initiative to the Government for greater resources for our Surgeries. The Campaign is called 'Put Patients First – back general practice'. There were several speakers from the RCGP and from the National Association for Patient Participation. The main speaker was Parliamentary Under-Secretary, Earl Howe who seemed well informed about the reduction of GP practice budgets.

Earl Howe then opened a question time where one of our own GP's, Dr Williams, asked how surgeries can be expected to open for longer hours and at weekends when there aren't enough GPs nationally to staff Monday to Friday effectively. The general feeling I had was one of GP's wanting to protect the 'care' they provide to their patients and improve provision in our surgeries at Nettleham and Cherry Willingham. I did speak with Earl Howe and found that he was very understanding of the difficulties faced by rural Practices and their patients. Our own MP, Edward Leigh, did attend for a part of the meeting between other engagements. We hope to be able to meet up with him in due course. You can find out more about the campaign, and sign up for updates at: <http://www.rcgp.org.uk/campaign>

On a sad note, I have just been informed by our Voluntary Drivers Scheme Co-Ordinator, of the very sudden death of Ian Smith, one of our valued drivers. Many patients will remember being transported from their homes to either Nettleham or Cherry Willingham surgeries by Ian, who was a courteous, kind and helpful gentleman and we shall all miss him.

We are producing a leaflet about the Patient Participation Group which should be available at both sites very soon – please take a copy and have a read. We are also considering introducing a ‘Get Well Corner’ for children – more information in the newsletter at a later date.

We are here for patients, we are patients ourselves, please feel free to contact us if you have specific issues you wish to raise.

Cherry Willingham Community School:

Mathematics Challenge hosted by Cherry Willingham Community School: The school had entries from local primary schools in Lincolnshire. Well done to Reepham Primary school who were the overall winners.

BTEC Art: The students visited the British Museum to complete research and drawings related to labyrinths for their next assignment.

English and Drama Workshop: Local play-write and poet, Steven Caute is in the school to lead Year 8 students in a literacy workshop. Over five visits Steven will be bringing his experience to the school to motivate and inspire students.

Physical Education Conference: The school hosted a meeting for teachers from over 40 schools and other organisations. Those in attendance discussed the challenges in encouraging people to get involved in sport within Lincolnshire and also the present and future aims of the physical education national curriculum.

Celebrating Volunteering: The school hosted the 'Celebrate Volunteering in Our Village' event on Saturday 29 March 2014. The event was held in partnership with the school, the Parish Council and the local Community Partnership.

Memories and anecdotes needed: Remember to collect and write up your own memories of your time at the school ready for our 50th year celebrations.
